

Monticello To Have Firemen's Convention

Monticello will have the annual convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association in 1935. That town has been selected as the convention town at the annual convention which closes its business session this afternoon in Saugerties.

Thursday will be the closing day of the convention with the annual parade starting at 2 o'clock. Attendance today was predicted as being the biggest since the last convention in Kingston. It is expected that between 3,000 and 4,000 men will be in line for the parade. Fair weather is predicted.

Election of officers this afternoon was practically the closing business of the convention. Unopposed the following slate was presented:

President, Charles Nagle of Beacon; first vice president, Robert S. York of Monticello; second vice president, Peter Van Tienen of Newburgh; secretary, Charles W. Neil of Poughkeepsie for the 14th year; treasurer, William A. Coyle, Yorkers; director for 5 years, Frank Wiley of Suffern; director for three years, unexpired term, Mark Rosenthal, Hudson; Delegate to State Convention, George B. Ohley of Saugerties; Chairman of Board of Directors, William H. Frank of Poughkeepsie.

FORD BELIEVES THAT CONDITIONS ARE BETTER

Detroit, June 20 (AP)—Henry Ford, in an interview today, expressed the conviction that "The industrial picture looks better all the time," and that "Things are getting better in spite of everybody grabbing up all they can get."

"Things are very much on the upswing," the automobile manufacturer said, "and have been since people made up their minds to get out and work."

Ford said that although he had not given much attention to the activities of the session of Congress just closed, he thought it "quite natural that people should breathe a sigh of relief when Congress goes home and that business should 'stretch' and start out anew."

Discussing general industrial conditions, Ford said that there is bound to be "an occasional slump—a kind of a vacation." He added, at the same time, that the country can "get along very successfully on a five day week."

Then, as an after-thought, he went on: "The six hour day and five day week would have been here by now if 'they' had left things alone." He did not indicate whom he meant by "they."

"The six hour day is coming because with improved machinery, things can be made faster and more time is needed to consume them," he continued.

On recent price reductions in the automobile industry, Ford said: "The minute a price reduction is in order the manufacturer might just as well cut prices, because everybody is looking for it, anyway."

Ford was in his usual good health and to show that he carries lightly his 71 years, he vaulted over a four-foot rail to have his picture taken with the 1,000,000th of the newer models of Ford cars as it came from the assembly line.

The assembly line was stopped for 11 minutes while the pictures were being snapped.

"Well," observed Ford, "we've held up the production of 22 cars!"

TYPEWRITER EXPERT AT TWO O'REILLY STORES.

In keeping with their policy of offering their customers the most prompt and expert service at all times, the William O'Reilly stationery stores have secured the services of J. W. Jowett, formerly connected with the Remington Typewriter Company, to service and repair typewriters in Kingston.

Mr. Jowett, who is an expert in his line, will be located at the O'Reilly store on Broadway, and a call at either that store or the branch store on John street will be sufficient to secure the services of this expert.

The O'Reilly branch store on John street has in its window a typewriter completely torn down, which next week Mr. Jowett will rebuild at the Broadway store. Anyone interested is invited to visit the store and watch Mr. Jowett's work.

SAYS FIRM WILL TAKE BIGGER PART IN TRAFFIC

A. V. S. Olcott, president of the Hudson River Steamboat Company, last night pictured his firm taking an increasingly important part in passenger and freight traffic between Albany and New York city.

At the conclusion of a dinner for the Capital District Traffic Association at which he was host aboard one of his ships, the Remondier, Mr. Olcott declared that already during the present passenger season, there have been large increases in the number of persons carried, and that "we are doing a nice freight business as well."

The navigation company president predicted an all-year-round service by the ships under his management, and pledged "the best freight and passenger service it is possible to give."

All in Readiness for League Open House

All was announced in readiness today for the inspection and open house of the new Junior League headquarters on East O'Reilly street in the Municipal building. Members of the Junior League will receive visitors and explain the new headquarters between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and they have expressed the wish that all those interested in the League and its activities might attend.

City officials are among those who have received special invitations from the League, the aid-men being in a part responsible for the locating of the headquarters in the Municipal building. During the afternoon refreshments will be served.

Members of the League have made preparations for a large attendance and hope as many people as possible will be present to see the new Junior League rooms and get an insight into the activities of the League.

Launch Big Drive In Chaco Boreal

Buenos Aires, June 20 (AP)—One of the bitterest battles in the bloody history of the Chaco Boreal wilderness was fought today along three fronts.

Communiqués from Paraguay and Bolivia and information from private sources revealed that both armies have launched supreme drives to end the warfare.

Paraguay has attacked the sector around Bolivia's Fort Halligan, where a victory would be of immense consequence because it would endanger the last Bolivian stronghold within the limits Paraguay claims in the Chaco.

The Bolivian army is making counter-thrusts against Paraguayan drives.

La Paz asserted several detachments had been surrounded in the Halligan sector. From Asuncion came the statement that Paraguayan forces had driven Bolivian troops from the sector and had made important advances in the Chaco.

Loan Repudiation Is Up to Cabinet

Havana, June 20 (AP)—Repudiation of approximately $4,000,000 in private American loans, advised by a special committee and approved by the Cuban National Bank of New York, is up to Cuba's cabinet.

The loans were negotiated during the Machado regime and a spokesman for the present government confirmed reports that the committee advised against making payments to American bondholders.

Advisers from New York said that the bank considered repudiation to be legally impossible and was asking the government to withhold action until the bank's case is heard.

Principal creditors are the Chase National City Bank of New York and the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Company of Chicago.

The government last April declared a moratorium on $12,000,000 in bonds held largely by American investors.

Plans Announced For Summer School

By resolution of the board of education and the approval of the State Education Department, a summer high school will be conducted in the Kingston High School building. All students intending to attend summer high school should register Monday or Tuesday morning, July 2 and 3, from 8 to 12 o'clock. The school will be in session from July 5 to August 21 inclusive. The sessions of the school will be held on every school day, exclusive of holidays, from 8 a. m. to 12 m., including Saturday July 7 and Saturday, July 14.

The purpose of the summer high school as stated by the State Education Department, are especially intended for three classes of pupils:

First: Candidates for entrance to college in the following September.

Second: Pupils repeating work in which they have failed.

Third: Pupils of exceptional ability who wish to shorten their high school course.

For students who have failed in regular term work and are repeating, classes will be offered in the following subjects: English, Latin, French, German, Elementary algebra, intermediate algebra, Plane geometry, Commercial arithmetic, General Science, Physics, Chemistry, History A, History B, History C.

Pupils will be allowed to take an advanced term of any of the above subjects if the preceding term's work shows 85 per cent or more. Special cases may be considered by the principal.

No pupil will be permitted to register for a subject he has never studied in an approved high school.

for at least 10 weeks, with the exception of civics, economic geography I and economic geography II. No class will be formed for less than eight pupils.

No classes will be offered in drawing, shop, home-making or commercial subjects except commercial arithmetic.

Pupils who have never attended an approved high school will not be admitted. There will be no tuition charge for high school pupils whose parents live within the boundaries of the city of Kingston. Non-residents from other high schools will be permitted to register upon the recommendation of their principal, providing they comply with the rules as stated herein, and present a statement from the principal showing that they are entitled to take the work requested. Tuition for non-residents will be ten dollars per subject, payable in advance. No pupil will be permitted to register for more than two subjects. Attendance must be regular and prompt. Idlers will be promptly dismissed after one warning.

T. L. Culver, vice principal of the Kingston High School, will act as principal of the summer school. All of his assistants will be Kingston High School teachers who are specialists in the subjects they teach.

On the 21st of August, regents and school examinations will be given in practically all the subjects taught in the summer school. Standings earned in regents examinations in August may be applied toward a regents academic or college entrance diploma. To be admitted to the final examinations, all students must have been in attendance 30 or more days. There can be no exception to this rule of the regents.

Fashions by Eleanor Gunn

Spot Lights and Cues

New York—To be right on the spot one should use the twin or reverse arrangement. No, it's not new. It has been done now for two or three seasons, but it has a certain standing and is as good as ever.

One cannot truthfully cite polka dots as the high sign of the year, but they are in the code of dots and dashes with which fashion writes her style message from north, south, east and west. After all, a great many sane and sensible women like a thing for itself, not just because it is new. Such women want the type of costume sketched today.

If, however, your concern is with the ultra-fashionable, let me tell you that tiered skirts, tunics and aprons is your dish. Not, of course, for every occasion, but for luncheon dates followed by bridge, or something that calls for a critical audience.

The apron, tunic, or what-have-you is often ruffled at its edge, or edges, for no matter how plain our morning garb we do like to sprout wings and things as the day goes on. Pierrot ruffles of maline or fine net are among the dressier late afternoon and evening notes. Both neck and hemlines are weighted with these things, shoulders too are sometimes fluted beneath them. Not all on one gown, of course, but you get what I mean. Shoulders are widened by sleeve borders.

Repeating the garniture of the dress on the hat is a note which will bear repeating. It is done so cleverly. There is the brigand idea, the dress fabric making a sort of bandanna under the hat, knotted under the tilted brim. And there are less sensational ways, too, of linking dress and chapeau.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT AND DARK

A spectator sports outfit of yellow and brown polka dot crepe has a jacket in reverse color scheme, with capote sleeves and fan-pleated sections. The back view of the dress, in the small sketch, shows the cut-out back, and the kerchief and cuffs of the brown print. The belt pulls through slits in the jacket to fasten in front.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

Large squares are favorite summer sports scarfs. Many are fringed edge types, mostly in twills and in crepes. The patterns are sturdy sports designs—an all-over arrangement of tiny dots, or nautical motifs, or others with varied arrangements of reversed color dots achieving a border pattern.

It is the nautical fashions that are the center of attraction this summer, reports indicate. The nautical theme is found in all types of active sportswear. The sandy dress has returned and is indicated in this illustration again taken to back lengths.

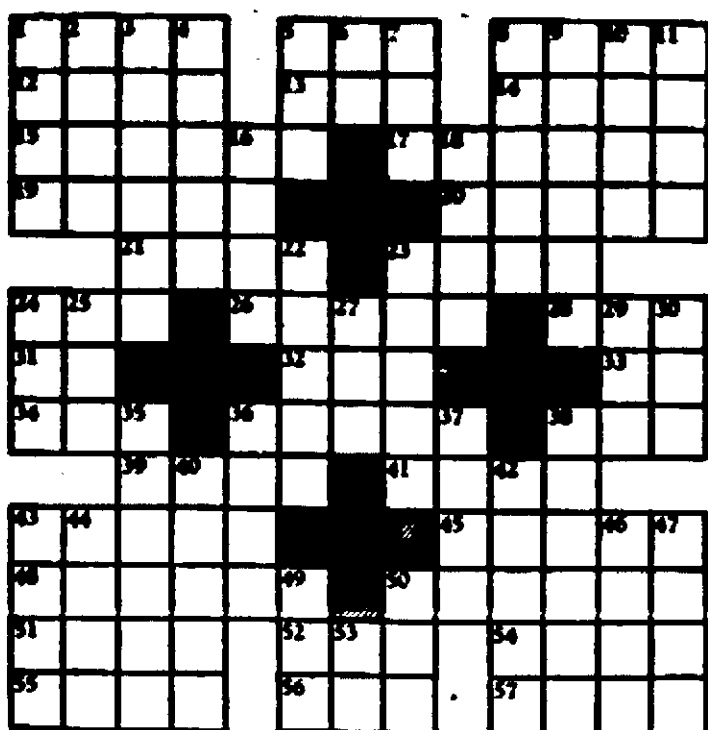

The square nautical blouse is also back and shows stripe contrast not only for the collar but cuffs, and is completed by the traditional ducking tie.

Very well makes the reader jacket with brown buttons. Cotton gingham makes the white shorts which have navy piping on the side seam.

Blind Appreciate Results of Sale

The many blind workers who directly benefit from the sale now being held at 365 Wall street have been made very happy by the fine patronage which they have received. The sale is a success and this means that the sightless producers will have plenty of work for many weeks to come. Everyone who buys at the sale has, in addition to securing what they need at a reasonable price, the satisfaction of knowing that she has helped some worthy blind producer to earn his own livelihood.

The sale will last only a few days longer, closing Saturday at 5:30 p. m. It is the sincere hope of the committee in charge that everyone needing household articles will visit the store before making his purchases elsewhere.

On Friday, June 22, the committee in charge will be as follows: 10 a. m.—1 p. m.—Clinton Avenue Methodist—Mrs. W. N. Ryder, chairman, Mrs. A. W. Stall, Mrs. Frank Blinn, Mrs. Ray Haines, Mrs. M. W. All are welcomed. The Rev. William Godsey is pastor.

To Hold Inquest Into Jamestown Fire

Jamestown, N. Y., June 26 (AP)—Preparing for an inquest tomorrow morning, Jamestown authorities today investigated the Richmond Oil Company fire which caused seven deaths Monday and sent more than a score to hospitals with injuries.

The toll mounted to seven last night when Harold D. Andersen, 45, a fireman, died. Three more of the 16 victims remaining in hospitals are not expected to live.

Those in a critical condition are Zymond Golozynski, 16, brother of one of the dead; Captain Leonard Hendrickson, 47, a fireman; and Merlin C. Huck, 26, a bystander.

The public safety committee of the city council will meet tonight to begin an investigation of the fire.

Cafeteria Supper.

A cafeteria supper will be served Wednesday, June 27, beginning at 5:30 o'clock by Circle No. 3 of the First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf street. An attractive menu has been arranged. The public is cordially invited.

Out of 3743 weddings in Milwaukee last year, the knot was tied in 3,043 instances by ordained ministers, with justices of the peace and judges dividing the remainder.

DO THIS Beneta Cox WHEN YOU FEEL "HALF SICK" PRESCRIBES DR. W. — * FOR NEW YORK SECRETARY

*Dr. W. is well known New York physician, whose signed statement is on record in New York. We omit his name out of courtesy to the accepted custom of the medical profession.

To relieve quickly and thoroughly that depressing "half-sick" feeling . . . you must get at the real cause! Read here the advice of Doctor W.

You, like thousands of others, may be feeling low . . . depressed—not really ill, just "half-sick"—and never realize the cause!

Yet, according to Dr. W., famous New York physician, frequently the cause is just this—your intestines are clogged with an accumulation of poisonous wastes.

These poisons, doctors know, are picked up by the blood stream and spread all over your body—thus causing you to feel logy, out-of-sorts, "half-sick." The accumulated wastes exert pressure on the nerves of your intestines—and you get one of those dull, sick headaches.

You must get rid of these poisonous wastes before you can hope to feel well again. For nearly forty years, doctors have prescribed Sal Hepatica as the safe, quicker way to do this.

For Sal Hepatica is utterly different from other types of laxatives in four vital respects:—

WHY SAL HEPATICA IS DIFFERENT—MORE EFFICIENT

1. It is a Mineral Salt Laxative. It flushes the system clear of poisonous wastes and aids Nature to restore the natural balance of body fluids.

2. Its action results from osmosis (a gentle, thorough flushing) and not from irritation.

3. It acts promptly. No hours of waiting to upset your day.

4. No "dragged-out" feeling afterwards—for Sal Hepatica does not deplete body tissues of fluid.

So take Sal Hepatica at the first sign of clogged intestines. And thus aid Nature to keep you free from colds, grippe, rheumatic pains, upset stomach and many other common troubles.

Curtain Shop Plans Clearance Sale

David McFarland, proprietor of the Curtain Shop, announcing a big clearance sale to make room for a line of fall curtains and draperies, says that they have had a most successful business during the year and a half they have been located in Kingston.

Mr. McFarland says: "We feel very grateful to the people of Kingston and surrounding country for the patronage they have given us and the resulting success of our business during a time when it was freely predicted that we were doomed to failure because of business conditions. However, we are proud to say that we have made and sold more curtains than any store in Kingston and we hope to deserve the future patronage of our friends. We are carrying a large stock of curtains to meet every demand, we must dispose of the remainder to make room for a most complete line of fall curtains and draperies. We will therefore, commencing Friday, start our end of the season clearance of everything in stock at about one-half price and less."

Talks to parents

Make-Up
By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH
At 14, Sally was determined to wear make-up. The girls she knew and admired all used it, most of them rather crudely, and the child felt that she was not "one of them" unless she also put on rouge, lipstick and mascara, until she looked like a painted French doll.

Her mother knew that open disapproval and prohibitions would merely drive the girl to waiting until she left home to put the trimmings on, so she said nothing for a few days, but bided her time. Finally, when Sally was going out one evening, Mrs. Jones made her first comment. It was merely a suggestion that her daughter smooth out her make-up a little to get a better effect. A few days later, however, she took time for a talk with Sally.

"I've been studying your make-up and how you should apply it," she said. "Your mouth is prettier with a little less. Your eyes I would leave alone for a while, since they really show off better without the makeup. Try to wear make-up if you must wear it, to enhance your good points, and not like war-paint. Sophisticated effects are not obvious. Your friends put it on badly because they do not know how it should be done. I want you to wear it correctly."

Somewhat her mother's unresisting attitude and her willingness even to help Sally took away some of the thrill of wearing lipstick and rouge, and Mrs. Jones had no more trouble at least as far as an excess of cosmetics went.

The effort which girls make to look fast and sophisticated is very much like a boy's first wearing of smoking. It is a form of defiance, an expression of independence. When they meet no opposition their gesture falls rather flat, and the effort to keep it up seems excessive.

Our Growing Population

The following births have been reported to the board of health:

Mr. and Mrs. Bertram C. Lewis of Saugerties, a daughter, Elizabeth Ann, at Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wesley Lyons of Flatbush, a daughter, Irma Marguerite, at Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel DeGroot of 45 Lincoln street, a daughter, Lilian Constance.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gardner Lewis of 14 Irving Place, a daughter, Margaret Eleanor, at Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gleason of 49 Howland avenue, a daughter, Marilyn Martha.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kouboupt of 56 Murray street, a son, Kenneth, Jr., at Kingston Hospital.

Republican Card Party

Indications are that there will be a large turnout at the card party and dance of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Downtown Republican Club in Manchester Hall, East Strand, Friday night, June 29. Games will start at 8 o'clock. Refreshments will be served to the players. Immediately after the games, there will be dancing with music by the Catskill Mountaineers. The public is invited to patronize the event.

Rain

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
"It's raining," they cried happily. "It's pouring," said Top Notch, the rooster. "Raining doesn't half describe it."

"Oh, let's hope it keeps up," said Willy Nilly. "Why don't you mean," said Top Notch. In his practical fashion, "Is that you hope it will keep on coming down?"

"Don't be so fussy, Top Notch," barked Rip, the dog. "But I suppose all vain creatures are fussy."

"There, there," said Willy Nilly. "No quarreling. We won't have to worry about the dry grass and the woods and be afraid of any more fires if we have enough rain. Let's rejoice instead of snapping at each other."

"We're not snapping at any one," quacked the ducks. "But we're going straight into it and let the rain run right off our backs."

"I'm going down to fix up my general store in the shed," cackled Top Notch. "It needs attention."

"I'm going to the nest to straighten it out," cawed Christopher Columbus Crow.

"Let's watch him as he goes out and see that he doesn't take something that doesn't belong to him," cackled Top Notch.

"I suppose you're afraid I may take your little mirror," cawed Christopher. "But I won't. Unkind words have often been said about crows but no one has remarked that we're vain."

"How do I know that?" inquired Top Notch. "I don't hear a great deal of conversation and news."

Just then there came a tapping of wings on the door.

Tomorrow—"The Invitation"

House Burglarized.
Canandaigua, N. Y., June 20 (AP)—It was with more than normal surprise at such happenings that a caretaker discovered that a home here was ransacked by thieves. For Canandaigua hasn't had a major burglary in quite a few years. The event was still a topic of conversation today.

MENUS OF THE DAY

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

Luncheon For Eight
Hostesses find porch parties popular for summer entertaining and refreshments consist of simple but very refreshing foods.

Menu
Frozen Fruit Salad
Hot Rolls
Strawberry Preserves
Raspberry Ice
Yellow Cake
Mallow Frosting
Iced Tea

Frozen Fruit Salad For 8
1 cup mayonnaise
1 cup whipped cream
1 cup seeded white cherries
1 cup diced pears
1 cup diced peaches
1 cup chopped pineapple
1 cup red cherries
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Mix ingredients and pour into tray in mechanical refrigerator. In four hours the salad will be frozen and can be served on lettuce and surrounded with more mayonnaise.

This salad can be frozen by packing in mold, sealing tightly and burying in 4 hours in 4 parts chopped ice and one part coarse salt.

Yellow Cake (Using Up Egg Yolks)

1/4 cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 teaspoons lemon extract
1/4 cup milk
8 egg yolks
Cream butter and sugar. Add rest of ingredients and beat 3 minutes. (This beating is very important.) Pour into 2 layer cake pans fitted with waxed papers. Bake 20 minutes in moderate oven. Cool and frost.

Mallow Frosting
2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup water
2 egg whites
beaten
Mix sugar, vinegar and water. Boil gently and without stirring until fine thread forms when portion of hot syrup is slowly poured from spoon. Slowly pour into whites. Beat steadily until thick and cold. Add rest of ingredients and frost cake.

Madeleine Krom in Cast.

Commercial Crops Are Below June Normal

Albany, N. Y., June 20 (AP)—Commercial vegetable crops below normal for this date in June were reported in most sections today by the state department of agriculture, due to low rainfall and late frosts.

Cabbage in most sections is not germinating because of little rain. However, long Island production is expected to be about 15 per cent above 1933 but eight per cent below the average for the preceding five years.

Lettuce crops in New York state will be approximately 600 acres under the 1933 total of 5,400. Germination has been retarded by the drought and a large percentage of the crop is late.

Green peas are about four weeks late, but an increase in the empire state crop looms. It is expected the yield will be about 425,000 bushels, compared with 346,000 bushels in 1933.

BOY SCOUTS TO CONDUCT COURT OF HONOR FRIDAY

The Kingston district of the Boy Scouts will conduct a Court of Honor Friday night, June 22, in Bethany Chapel, North Front street and Washington avenue, at 7:45.

Among the awards to be given will be two Eagle ranks: Edwin Ford and Robert Everett.

All Scouts expecting advancement should have their applications in the council office, 277 Fair street, by Thursday of this week.

Tests For Normal Applicants Saturday

Saturday in Kingston High School, the University of the State of New York will give a series of tests to all applicants for the State Normal schools who were unable to take them when they were given previously.

The tests were given before on May 19, when there was such a large number of applicants to take the tests that all who desired to take them were unable to do so, due to the lack of question papers. For this reason the new series of tests are to be given Saturday.

These tests are not for those who took them on May 19. The tests Saturday will be similar to the previous ones and will be given in Hall A of the high school, starting at 10 a. m.

SENATOR SHIPSTEAD WILL BE OPPOSED FOR RE-ELECTION

St. Paul, June 20 (AP)—United States Senator Henrik Shipstead, Farmer Laborite, will be opposed for re-election in November by Congressman Elmer Holdale, Democrat, and N. J. Holmberg, Republican.

Senator Shipstead won the Farmer Labor nomination over Congressman Francis H. Shoemaker by a majority of nearly 100,000 votes in Monday's state primary.

Contesting Governor Floyd B. Olson's bid for a third consecutive term will be Martin Nelson, Republican standard-bearer and other John Regan, or Fred Schlipplin, St. Cloud publisher, Democrats. Regan held a fair lead with three quarters of the state's precincts reported.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, June 20 (AP)—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets)—The following quotations represent prices on sales by commission merchants and other original receivers on the New York city downtown wholesale district up to 8 a. m.

Update New York green peas of finest quality wholemealed at $1.75-$2.00 per bushel basket. Washington fancy telephone peas, packed in bushel hampers, changed hands at $3.00 while California offerings brought $2.60-$2.50.

Big Boston lettuce in crates of two dozen heads sold at 40-50c, occasionally as high as 60c-65c. Western states iceberg type lettuce met a limited outlet in a very dull market. The best stock peddled out at $3.00-$3.50 per crate.

Supplies of new crop celery, from Orange county, N. Y., were light today and prices advanced. Stock, in the rough, packed in high ball crates realized $2.75-$3.00. Bunches of one dozen stalks ranged from 50c-$1.25.

Receipts of strawberries were relatively light. The market was stronger for fancy large, but inactive on small and poor.

The market for bountiful beans was unsettled due to abundant supplies from New Jersey, Maryland, and Virginia. The demand was insufficient to absorb these heavy receipts and low prices prevailed.

Government Rests In Ether Case Today

Newark, N. J., June 20 (AP)—The government rested its case in federal court today against the three men and two corporations charged with misbranding and selling adulterated ether to hospitals in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Minneapolis and Bristol, Pa.

Milton Elias, salesman, of 276 Schley street, Newark, the last witness called by the prosecution, testified he knew the ether he sold was formerly owned by the army because Benjamin Gordon, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., one of the defendants, had told him so.

The other defendants are Sidney Cohen and Edward Gordon, the Keene Chemical Company and the Harold Surgical Corporation, all of New York.

The indictment charged them with conspiracy. The ether, the government charged, was originally part of the American Army's World War supplies, was returned to this country in 1926 for industrial purposes only. Purchasers of the ether, the government says, were St. Agnes Hospital, Philadelphia, the Harriman in Bristol, Pa., St. Joseph's, Baltimore, the Mital and the Swedish Hospitals, Minneapolis, and the Surgical Selling Company, Atlanta, Ga.

When the government rested its case Walter G. Wiane, defense counsel, moved for dismissal of the case. Federal Judge Fiske said he would hear arguments.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 20 (AP)—Financial markets found the going a little difficult again today and prices tumbled frequently over profit-taking barriers.

The activity in stocks, during the greater part of the session, was about half of that of yesterday. Some groups displayed moderate resistance to the downward drift, but as a whole there was evidence throughout the list. While the pressure was not great in most share departments, there was, at the same time, a lack of any important support. News of a stimulating nature was scarce.

Mild rallying tendencies were shown by shares of Kennecott, Cerro, Dapasco, Anaconda, Howe Sound, U. S. Smelting, American Telephone, Consolidated Gas and General Motors. Included Western Union, Westinghouse, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Case, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, McIntyre Porcupine, Freeport Texas, Allied Chemical, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Corn Products, Columbian Carbon and General Electric. The Aircrafts and Oils were fairly steady, as were the Utilities.

Appeals to Lehman For Her Life Today

Albany, N. Y., June 20 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Antonio, mother of three small children, made her final effort to escape the electric chair today when she appealed to Governor Lehman to commute the death sentence given her by an Albany county court for the slaying of her husband.

The young mother, now in the death house at Sing Sing prison, will go to the electric chair on the night of June 28—eight days from now—unless the governor intervenes.

She was represented at the clemency hearing today by Daniel H. Prior, who figured in the national "Legs" Diamond, Manhattan gang chief, and Manney Strowl, convicted of kidnapping. Lieutenant John J. O'Connell, Jr.

Prior planned to present an argument that Mrs. Antonio was convicted on insufficient evidence of plotting the murder of her husband who was found stabbed to death on the Albany-Camden road a year ago.

Charles Farraci and Vincent Saetta, both convicted and condemned as having committed the actual murder, were represented at the clemency hearing. They have asked the governor to commute their sentences.

If Mrs. Antonio goes to the chair, she will be the first woman since Mrs. Ruth Snyder to be executed by New York state.

Naval Problems Of Britain Outlined

London, June 20 (AP)—Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald today presented a long outline of Great Britain's naval problems to the American delegation here to discuss plans for next year's naval disarmament conference.

It was said in official quarters that MacDonald stressed "Great Britain's enormous responsibility" and her "position in world affairs."

It was reported he discussed both European and far eastern problems at considerable length. It was understood that, for the second day of the preliminary conversation between the nations, Great Britain did not offer a definite outline for the 1935 conference.

There was only a general discussion of an appropriate date for the conference, with the powers apparently unable to agree at the morning session for anything but the reception of MacDonald's statement. The American delegates were invited to No. 10 Downing street for luncheon, and it was decided to continue the conversations later.

Attempts to get Japanese plans for next year's conference failed yesterday although Tokyo was given assurances of fair treatment by representatives of America and England.

The Washington delegation is represented as having no concrete plan because Great Britain took the initiative in arranging the preliminary conversations now in progress.

Lapo Injured But Cannot Tell How

Harrison Lapo of Shady was brought to the Kingston Hospital early this morning by David Isaacson of the Colonial Taxi Service, who had found him lying in the field near the roadway, on the farm of Harry Shultis near Lake Hill.

At the hospital Lapo was treated by Dr. F. A. Johnston, who found him suffering from a fractured skull and a fractured nose. His condition is said to be serious.

The sheriff's office was notified and Deputies Molyneux and Vredenburg made an investigation. They found Lapo unable to tell what had happened. A visit to the scene of the accident disclosed the fact that Lapo's car had torn down some 18 or 20 feet of a high board fence before it came to a stop, badly damaged from Lapo's third commencement.

During the day, the band will play a concert on the porch of the Maxwell House in Sangerties. Harry Walsenbeider, local bandmaster, directing.

Married Secretly.

Hollywood, June 20 (AP)—The secret marriage of Walter H. Logan, wealthy young sportsman formerly of Chicago, to Miss Ruthanna Stevens, stage and screen actress, was disclosed today. The couple said they were married last November in Yuma, Ark. Miss Stevens, formerly of New York, is the daughter of Mr. Beatrice Stevens, San Francisco club woman.

Seven Outlaws Fail To Take Crescent Safe

Guthrie, Okla., June 20 (AP)—Seven outlaws invaded the town of Crescent, near here, and held off scores of citizens for nearly an hour today while they unsuccessfully tried to steal the safe of the Farmers and Merchants Bank.

Failing to obtain any loot, they drove away with a half dozen kidnapped persons, soon releasing all but one, Night Watchman Joe Stanfield, 46.

The gunmen swept into town shortly after 3 a. m. cut telephone lines, rounded up every one they encountered and backed a new winch-equipped truck up to the front of the bank. The plate glass window was shattered and a cable looped about the safe, containing $4,200, according to President Hugh Adams of the bank.

They swung the safe through the window to the sidewalk with a great crash. Startled citizens tumbled from their beds and ran to the scene.

Then, perspiring freely in the rays of a street light, several of the thugs attempted for half an hour to boost the 5,600 pound safe to the truck while a gathering crowd of 75 or 80 persons was held at bay by outlaws armed with sawed-off shotguns.

Finally the desperadoes gave it up as a bad job, jumped into their truck and small sedan with their captives and sped out of town, all the kidnapped persons except Stanfield were released at the Cimarron river bridge, 5 miles south of Crescent.

Someone in the angry crowd fired a shot from a small rifle at the outlaws as they tried to hoist the safe and they replied with their shotguns. No one was hit.

By the time the thugs roared out of town, virtually the whole town knew of the invasion. Poses were formed quickly.

Dr. E. E. Goodrich, who watched the operations from a nearby building, followed the gunmen and their captives out of town and brought the released persons back to Crescent.

Sheriff Milo Beck of Guthrie, who said he believed the men were intoxicated and that the sedan was stolen in Crescent, trailed the outlaws 10 miles south and west on highway No. 33 but lost them.

James A. Farley Will Remain as Chairman

Washington, June 20 (AP)—James A. Farley will remain as chairman of the Democratic national committee at least until late fall.

This was confirmed today as the postmaster general prepared to make a swing around the country to combine business with politics.

Word that Farley would remain in high command of the party came after a last minute conference with President Roosevelt who has the final decision as to who shall hold the chairmanship.

During the winter the President let it be known that he did not wish federal office holders to also hold memberships on the national committee. Several resignations resulted.

Farley's has been expected.

Prior to Roosevelt's nomination for president Farley toured the country in his behalf. This time he will make the trip in the interests of party candidates for re-election to Congress.

PRINCE CORRESPONDENT IN DIVORCE SUIT

London, June 20 (AP)—With a prince as correspondent, an aristocratic through today crowded a court room to hear the proceedings in a divorce suit brought by Edward James, brother of Mrs. Marshall Field, against his beautiful Viennese dancer wife, Tilly Losch James.

The cause celebre, which started in hearing last week, was resumed before Sir Boyd Merriam, president of the court.

Society is intensely interested in the case, especially so since Prince Serge Obolensky has been named as correspondent.

More than 20 witnesses have been called, some of them from as far away as Hollywood and the trial is expected to last through the present week well into the next unless the unexpected should happen.

INCREASED RATIO NOT BOOM TO PEACE

New York, June 20 (AP)—Rear Admiral William V. Pratt pointed at Japan's claim for an increased naval ratio today as a factor that "will not further the purposes of peace."

Asserting that a desire for equality and security do not justify such an increase, Admiral Pratt said, however, Japan "has a just claim to equality in treatment in other respects and until that claim is recognized there will remain a feeling of tension."

The naval expert, adviser to the American delegation at the 1931 London naval conference, wrote in the "Quarterly Review" on the prospects of the 1935 naval conference.

Cafeteria Supper.

The ladies of the North Marbletown Reformed Church will serve a cafeteria supper on the church grounds Tuesday, June 26, at 6 o'clock. Included in the menu are: Chicken a la king, and waffles; frankfurters and rolls, potato salad, baked beans, cottage cheese, strawberries, ice cream, cake coffee and iced tea. You are cordially invited to dine in the invigorating atmosphere of the country. If stormy, supper will be held the next day evening.

Farley Gets Degree.

Jersey City, N. J., June 20 (AP)—James A. Farley of New York, postmaster general in the Roosevelt administration, will be awarded the honorary degree of doctor of laws at the commencement exercises at John Marshall College of Law this afternoon.

Aldermen Consider Use of City Hall

The building and supply committee held a hearing Tuesday evening at the city hall to discuss restricting the use of the rooms in the city hall. At the last meeting of the Common Council a resolution was introduced restricting the use of the building to board meetings and meetings of a purely civic nature. Alderman Paul Zucca, chairman of the supply committee, had had the city clerk send out invitations to various organizations using the city hall rooms for meetings, asking them to be represented at the meeting.

Only two organizations responded to the invitation: W. Scott Van Keuren, representing the local bricklayers' union, and Andrew Ferguson, who represented the Kingston Taxpayers' Association.

Alderman Zucca, who presided at the hearing, stated that the electric light bills in the building had increased nearly 50 per cent in the past six months, and that some taxpayers, who owned halls where meetings could be held, objected to the city allowing organizations to use rooms in the hall for holding meetings without paying rent.

Mr. Van Keuren stated that for over 25 years the bricklayers had met in the city hall. Mr. Ferguson expressed the opinion that the meetings of the taxpayers were of a civic nature.

Alderman Zucca stated that he was disappointed that the other organizations who used the city hall were not represented at the meeting. He said that the resolution had been referred to the building and supply committee and that they would submit a report to the Common Council later.

Great Legal Kinks Before Supreme Court

Washington, June 20 (AP)—The supreme court may call on some of America's outstanding lawyers to help unravel legal kinks and speed up legal procedure.

An enormous task fell on the high tribunal today as the result of a bill signed by President Roosevelt yesterday. It empowers the court to lay down uniform rules of practice and procedure for all federal courts.

The President called it a "most important" move and other observers saw in it an opening wedge toward making all legal procedure—state as well as federal—more uniform and simple. For generations there have been complaints that the courts are hamstrung by technicalities and delay.

In drafting rules some years ago for the guidance of federal courts in equity cases, the court named a commission of legal lights to investigate and suggest. It was thought probable that it will follow the same procedure now.

Jury in Murder Case Chosen in 12 Minutes

Dedham, Mass., June 20 (AP)—The jury that will sit in judgment on Norma Miller, charged with being an accessory after the fact of murder and robbery, was chosen in 12 minutes in Dedham Superior Court today.

Defense used all of its six challenges and the state used four. Norma's face white and breathing heavily, then stood before the court and heard the reading of the indictments against her.

England at War in 1761

Against France, Spain

England, in 1761, declared war against both France and Spain. She lost no time in renewing her attention to the Spanish colonies. On an October day in 1762 a British fleet under Admiral Samuel Cornish reached Manila with troops of whom General Draper was in command. The entire force numbered about 6,000 including 2,000 Sepoys. There was then no Spanish captain general, so the demand for surrender was made on the Roman Catholic archbishop.

Manila was little prepared for resistance. What fortifications she had were built to keep off the Moros or the Chinese pirates, not a heavily armed European fleet, with what were then considered powerful batteries. General Draper made a landing and advanced on the city under cover of artillery fire. A picked native force which was sent against him was driven back in wild disorder. The archbishop, depicting the shedding of blood, surrendered the city. For three hours Manila was given over to pillage and the Sepoys committed all the excesses forbidden under the rules of civilized warfare. On the protests of the prelate the English commanders made the troops desist.

An outstanding figure of this crisis was Simon de Anda, a judge and patriot leader. He maintained that the archbishop had no authority and should not have surrendered if he had. He notified the English that the people of the Philippines repudiated all terms of the surrender, especially the promise to pay $400,000 in gold. He had occupied to a neighboring land with certain government records and a stock of official printed stationery and there he issued orders and decrees as the captain general. The war between England and Spain was ended by the Treaty of Paris in 1763.

Society Notes

Ego-Graham.

Creek Locks, June 20.—Mrs. Anna Graham of Creek Locks and William Ego of Brooklyn were married on June 8 in Brooklyn by the Rev. C. J. Wertz. William Ego and Mrs. Otto Ego were the attendants.

Announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester B. Davis, of Olive Bridge, announce the engagement of their daughter, Hazel Wilfred, to Dr. John Randolph Osborne, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Osborne, of Chester, New York. Miss Davis is a graduate of Kingston High School and of the Methodist Episcopal Hospital of Brooklyn, New York. Dr. Osborne is a graduate in Medicine from McGill University of Montreal, Canada. He is now practicing in Middletown. The wedding will take place in the Autumn.

Frederick Bickert Weds.

New York, June 19, (Special).—Frederick E. Bickert, 35, a former resident of Kingston, now of 215 16th street, Union City, and Miss Louise C. Thier, 28, of 102 Hancock avenue, Jersey City, were married here this afternoon in the city chapel by Deputy City Clerk Philip A. Hines shortly after obtaining a license to wed at the Municipal Building. Mr. Bickert, son of Frederick E. and Josephine Bickert, was born in Kingston. His bride, the daughter of John B. and Hattie Thier, was born in Jersey City.

Hutchins-VanDemark.

One of the prettiest June weddings united Miss Beulah Elizabeth Van Demark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Demark, of Accord, and William Ward Hutchins, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles C. Hutchins, of Pulaski, N. Y. The wedding was solemnized Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the groom's home. The Rev. C. C. Hutchins officiated. Miss Hazel V. Orton of New York city was the bride's attendant and O. W. Swain of Albany, N. C., was best man. The bride was lovely in her gown of yellow tulle with tulle veil and hat to match. She carried a sheath of Madonna lilies. The bridesmaid wore white georgette. To the familiar strains of "O Promise Me" the bridal party proceeded to a floral arch composed of evergreens and June garden flowers, where the groom and attendants waited with the minister who performed the double ring ceremony. A reception followed. The bride was graduated from the secretarial department of Spencer's Business School. The bridegroom was graduated from Boston University School of Education in 1928 and Oswego State Normal School in 1931. He is to be the principal of the grade school at Stone Ridge for the coming year where the young couple will make their home after September 4. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins left amid a shower of confetti and streamers for a motor trip through western New York state, including Niagara Falls, Watkins Glen, and also Canada and other points of interest. The popular young couple have the best wishes of their friends for a long and happy married life.

About the Folks

Albert Ashdown, who has been a patient at the Benedictine Hospital, has sufficiently recovered to return to his home where he is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Lawrence C. Camp has rented Holyhook Cottage in Sawkill to Mr. and Mrs. Klett of New York for July and August. Mrs. Camp will leave soon for a visit with her sister, Mrs. J. J. Walsh of Boston, Mass.

Billy Ashdown, Jr., of Albany avenue extension had the misfortune to catch his fingers while closing the gate at the school grounds recently thus losing his finger nail. He is under the care of Dr. Larkin.

Business Failures.

New York, June 20 (AP)—The number of business failures last week was the largest since the week ended April 26, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. Insolvencies totaled 251 compared with 239 in the previous week and 396 for the same period last year. Retail failures rose to 149 against a 145 a week earlier, and an increase of 10 defaults was registered for the manufacturing group, according to the report.

Big Ben and Bow Bells

Are Best Known Chimes

So attached is London to Big Ben, the world famous clock in the parliament tower, that a few years ago a feeling of consternation gripped the city when a large crack appeared in the bell. When the makers of Big Ben assured the London public that the booming tones of the bell would not be stopped by the crack the relief of Englishmen was great.

The fame of this clock has spread throughout the world. And perhaps no less famous are the bells of Bow church which chanted their message to Dick Whittington, "thrice lord mayor of London." Legends that Londoners delight in telling have grown up around both these bells.

Big Ben, the most universally known of the noted bells, was first cast August 6, 1858. The London News of that date furnishes an accurate account of the event:

"The preparation of the mold had occupied six weeks and two reverberatory furnaces, capable of melting six tons of metal each, had been built expressly for the purpose of casting this monster bell. . . . The whole of the night previous was a scene of busy industry; and early in the morning the furnaces, having attained the requisite heat, their doors were opened, and the operation of charging, or putting in the metal, commenced, occupying about one hour. In less than two hours and a half the whole of the metal (15 tons) was in a state of perfect fusion. On the signal being given, the furnaces were tapped, and the metal flowed from them in two channels into a pool prepared to hold it before being admitted into the bell mold. The shelter, or gate, was then closed, and the metal allowed to flow. In five minutes the casting of the bell was complete, the successful termination of which delighted all present, who cordially joined the workmen in three hearty cheers."

Pirates Try Changing Luck By Making "Pie" Traynor Manager

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Another major league club has tried the old experiment of changing its fortunes by changing managers and today the Pittsburgh Pirates had a new pilot, Harold (Pie) Traynor, and offered an almost perfect opportunity for him to make good.

Traynor took over the managerial duties yesterday from George Gibson, who became progressively less popular with Pittsburgh fans as the Pirates' slump continued. The Bucs then went out and lost another game, their fifth straight and their eighth in nine starts, going down 5-3 before the league-leading New York Giants. That coupled with Boston's triumph over Chicago, put the Bucs in fifth place.

With a 4½ game margin over Brooklyn, Pittsburgh can't go much lower for a while and Traynor has a good starting place from which to hoist the club back into the pennant fight.

The Giants increased their lead over the second-place Cardinals to four games and over Chicago to 5½. While the combination of Ed Brandt's four-hit pitching and a timely homer by Randy Moore gave the Braves their decision over the Cubs, the Phillies pulled out a 12-inning decision over the Cardinals and Paul Dean, 10 to 8.

The last-place Cincinnati Reds won the other National League game when Manager Casey Stengel of Brooklyn started Johnny Babich, rookie from the coast, and saw him go out in the fourth five runs behind, after having his pitching hand struck by a batted ball. The final count in the slugfest was 11 to 7.

The American League had a rather profitless day when Cleveland and Washington, rivals for third place, split a doubleheader and remained in a virtual tie. All the other clubs were idle.

The Senators won the opener, 6-2. The Indians came back behind Mel Harder to win 3 to 0.

By The Associated Press.

Ed Brandt, Braves—Held Cubs to four hits and fanned seven.

Jim Bottomley, Reds—Drove in four runs against Dodgers with double and single.

Heinie Manush, Senators, and Mel Harder, Indians—Manush made five hits in doubleheader; Harder pitched seven-hit shutout in second game.

Curt Davis, Phillies—Limited the Cards to two hits in six innings of relief pitching to win in 12th.

Joe Moore, Giants—Rapped two doubles against Pittsburgh pitching.

BILLIARDS

Tuesday night at Nick's the junior billiard match was won by Walt Jeghers over Charles Tiano, 100-81. High runs were Jeghers 13, Tiano 81. This evening Bill Messing will play Bob Hart.

Play Against Schryvers Tonight At Kingston Fair Grounds, 6:15

Introducing three House of David players—Swaney, a pitcher, Shadowen, centerfielder, and Janesko, another twirler—who are to contest against the Schryver All Stars at the Kingston Fair Grounds this evening at 6:15 o'clock.

Besides this trio, the House will bring to Kingston other diamond performers who will give the Schryvers one of the toughest tussles they have had this season. Lou Murphy, manager of the bewhiskered team, is the authority for this. "The 1934 team is the strongest I ever had," says Lou, "and I am proud of the way it has been turning in victories."

The roster of the House of David includes Shadowen, cf; Catina, ss; Beasley, lf; Ragnow, c; Stravecchia, 2b; Woods, 1b; Forman, rf; Fetz, 3b; Swaney, Janesko, Ramsey and O'Grady, pitchers.

Schryvers will take the field with their regular lineup: F. Bruhn, ss;

Burgelin, 3b; Carpenter, 1b; Lay, rf; Tiano, lf; Knight, cf; L. Bruhn, 2b; Hoffman, c; Fraleigh and Thomas, pitchers.

Ted Fraleigh, big right-hander from Saugerties, probably will start on the mound for Kingston. Captain Charles Tiano said today:

"There will be a slight increase in the admission price for the game, this being necessary to meet the guarantee to bring such a strong attraction here. The House was booked through the Jones agency of 96 Broadway."

After playing the Lumbermen the Bearded nine will go to Saugerties for a night game with Chief Richter's Saugerties A. C. This will be one of the features on the entertainment program during the firemen's convention. It will be the first night game ever played in Saugerties, taking place under the flood-lights furnished by the Davids. Expectations are that it will draw a record crowd to Cantine Athletic Field, scene of the game. Starting time is 9:15.

Alderman Zucca Says O. K. on Auditorium For Pro Basketball

Kingston may have its professional basketball this winter as far as the committee of aldermen in charge of letting out the Municipal Auditorium is concerned. Paul Zucca, chairman of the committee, has informed P. Joseph Belcher, representative of the American Legion, that he may go ahead with his plans to bring the pro games back here under the direction of Frank Morgenweck, who made it flourish prior to depression days and put Kingston on the map as the conqueror of the Original Celtics, champions of the world.

Belcher and Morgenweck, close friends from the time that Morgenweck came to Kingston with his team before, have been considering the revival of big time ball here for more than a year. Believing the time is ripe for it they intend to make a strong bid for some of the best players available, especially since permission to use the Auditorium has been granted. Carl Husta, old favorite, is expected to return with Morgenweck.

As soon as Morgenweck has signed his men, their names will be announced to the public and early in the fall they will come to Kingston to live, making the team a truly Kingston outfit. The team will be known as the "Kingston Legionnaires," that name having been given by Joe Belcher, who is looking after the local post's interest in promoting basketball for its welfare fund.

Solons Won't Let Enzo Fight Maxey

Commission Turns Thumbs Down On Match Between Maxey Rosenbloom and Enzo Fiermonte For Lightweight Title — Challenger Not Qualified.

New York, June 20 (AP)—Unless the solons of the New York State Athletic Commission can be persuaded to change their minds, Madison Square Garden will be forced to call off its plans for a light heavyweight title fight between Maxey Rosenbloom and Enzo Fiermonte, young Italian, whose marriage to the former Mrs. John Jacob Astor created a society sensation last year.

Although no contracts had been signed, the Garden planned to offer the bout at the Long Island bowl, July 19. Fiermonte even had started to train at his wife's estate at Southampton.

But the Rating Commission turned thumbs down. They warned the Garden that if and when it was brought before them for sanction, the bout would be disapproved on the grounds that Fiermonte was not a fit challenger.

"Fiermonte is still a young man who hasn't fought around here in over two years and even then never reached the status of a main bout performer," said Bert Stand, secretary of the Commission.

HIGH SCHOOL MANAGERS FOR 1935 ARE ANNOUNCED

Recently Coach Kins of Kingston High announced his managers of the athletic teams for the school year starting next September. The managers are Ben Toffel, football; Earl Banks, basketball; Dave Pennington, baseball; and Frank Ostrander, track. The newly chosen managers have served as assistant managers during the past year to all the four sports.

SEVENTH DEMOCRATS TO PLAY OLDFATHERS AT BLOCK PARK

This evening at 6 o'clock the Seventh Ward Democrats will play the Oldfathers at Block Park, where a crowd is expected out to see the battle.

Mixed Foursome at Witwyck Golf Club

Tournament Will Be Held Saturday, And All Golfers, Whether Members Or Not, Are Invited To Play.

Mrs. S. S. Carlson, chairman of the Women's Tournament Committee, and William Meiler, chairman of the Men's Tournament Committee, for the mixed two-ball foursome tournament to be held at the Witwyck Golf Club course on Saturday afternoon, June 23, are hard at work on arrangements for the affair. Already a number of names have been received by Tom Goodman, manager of the course and anyone desiring to enter their name for the tournament may do so by calling Mr. Goodman at 3509.

For this tournament the greens fee will be waived and no charge will be made. This is being done in order that Kingston people, whether members of the club or not, may have an opportunity to play and inspect the course and become acquainted with the golfers of the city who are playing the new course.

The tournament will be held at 1 o'clock and all golfers whether members or not are invited. The tournament was originally scheduled for last Saturday but on account of the boat races at Highland many requested that it be postponed a week. It will be in the form of a mixed two-ball four-some, a man and a woman playing alternate shots with one ball, paired off with another similarly matched team of two.

Cunningham's Start Depends on Ankle

Los Angeles, June 20 (AP)—If his slightly injured ankle will permit, Glenn Cunningham of Kansas, who turned in the fastest mile ever run Saturday, would like to take a crack at the world half-mile mark in the National Collegiate Meet here Saturday.

"We'll find out how well Glenn's leg holds up in the preliminaries of the half Friday," Coach Bill Hargis said today. "I know he would like nothing better than to take a shot at the world record in this event. He finished that mile in such fine shape at Princeton that we are both confident he can come back and run a great 880 after his mile here Saturday, if the ankle is O. K."

Cunningham arrived last yesterday and had no opportunity to work out. He planned to train lightly today.

Sculpins Are Queer Fish

The long-horned sculpin is one of the strangest fish inhabiting the eastern waters of America. It has a big head, ornamented with many sharp spines with which it often wounds unwary fishermen. Its mouth is big enough to swallow objects much larger than its own comparatively small body. It changes color as readily as a chameleon. In spite of its armament, sculpins are not quick to attack. They prefer to lie quietly and rely on their color to hide them. They make themselves look especially vicious when attacked. When lying in the shelter of a dark rock, covered with barnacles and ornamented with pink, brown or green plants, sculpins will have a dark ground color with spots of pink, brown and green. On a patch of green sea lettuce it will be all green. On brown, it will be all brown. On white sand, it will be as pale as the sand.

Oldest, Youngest Presidents

Andrew Jackson was the oldest man to occupy the Presidency as he lacked but 11 days of being seventy years of age when his term expired. William Henry Harrison was the oldest man to be inaugurated, having entered his sixty-ninth year only a few days before taking office. And he died only a month after his inauguration. Theodore Roosevelt was the youngest man to become President, being but forty-two years of age at McKinley's death. He was also the youngest to be elected. He was forty-six at that time.

The earliest known description of the Maya ruins in Yucatan, dating from about 1620, was found in the Vatican library.

Chance to Escape

"When I hear a loud voice seill'm'pin' on de sidewalk," said Uncle Eben, "I's always glad to discover dat it's a radio announcer and not an auctioneer."

THE Spotlight BY GRANTLAND RICE

Heading In Dark

When the battle breaks against you, and the crowd forgets to cheer—When the Anvil Chorus echoes with the accents of a jeer—When the knockers start their panning in the knockers' nimble way, With a rap for all your errors and a josh upon your play, There is one quick answer ready that will sail them on the wing. There is one reply forthcoming that will take away the sting. There is one elastic comeback that will hold them, as it should: Make good—old kid—make good.

No matter where you finish in the mix-up or the row, There are those among the rabble who will pan you, anyhow; But the entry who is sticking and delivering the stuff Can listen to their yapping as he giggles up his cuff; The loafer has no comeback and the quitter no reply. When the Anvil Chorus echoes, as it will, against the sky; But there's one quick answer ready that will wrap them in a hood; Make good—old kid—make good.

Carrying On

The game can still be carried along well beyond the competitive limit.

Twenty-nine years ago, which means 1905, young Andy Coakley of Holy Cross was a member of the best pitching staff that ever harrid hostile bats.

The other three were Rube Waddell, Chief Bender and Eddie Plink. There may have been a tougher combination to face than this quartet—but who can name them?

Only a few days ago the same Andy Coakley, just twenty-nine years later, sends his Columbia baseball team into the championship halls of the Eastern College League with a decisive margin.

Andy doesn't look much older now—a year or two only—than he looked as one of Mr. Mack's pitching staff. He not only knows his baseball, but he has the same keen enthusiasm for the game and the same young spirit that belongs in the college world.

Fine golf instructors have started with 100,000 kids; but out of the lot there has been only one Bobby Jones. And there have been only a few champions such as Lawson Little, Jess Sweetser, Francis Oulmet and George Dunlap.

Not even John McGraw could teach Jim Thorpe how to hit a curve ball. Hitting curve balls was not part of Jim's equipment. He couldn't be taught that part of the trade.

No set of instructors could ever teach Carnera how to hit—or how to take a heavy punch around the head.

Tunney and Baer

For example, Max would have faced an entirely different proposition in facing Gene Tunney.

Tunney would have been far harder to hit—and Tunney's jab and stabs would have jolted and cut. Not even the durable Jack Dempsey could afford to step into those cutting, lancing punches, fired with deadly accuracy. The experts are still debating the case of Baer against Dempsey or Tunney at their best.

Having just won the championship, the Larupper from Livermore, must be given more time in which to prove his place. If he sticks to his trade and keeps in condition, he should be on top of the job for some time to come—more than a year or two at least. Whether Baer is willing to pay the price demanded for any such drive, for the heights is another argument.

Leone-Brostoff, Katz-Allen Head Legion Bouts, June 29

The next card of American Legion

boxing bouts will be held at the Municipal Auditorium, Friday night, June 29. Matchmaker Joe Kelly announced today, together with the news that there will be two star eight round matches on the card, one featuring Joe Leone, flashy New York lightweight against Benny Brostoff, and the other showing Julie Katz, twice Golden Gloves champion, against Skippy Allen, hard punching little Irish featherweight from New York.

Leone, introduced from the ring at the Petey Hayes fight, as one of the best lightweights around New York, having won 64 out of 71 scraps, should give one of the best boxing exhibitions ever seen here. He has an educated left hand that can do plenty of damage, as seen in his sparring sessions with Hayes when the Saugerties battler trained for his match with Ernest Torres.

Those who saw Leone liked him a lot, and expressed a desire to see him in action. Among those who liked him were some of Kingston's most ardent fight fans, Judge Harry E. Schrick, Tom Kennedy, Sergeant James V. Simpson and Leo Smith, once a matchmaker himself for the interests at Woodcliff Park. "There's a boy who can fight," said Leo after seeing him go through his paces. "He should get a shot here."

Leone has his chance and against a boy who should make him step to prove his ability as a boxer and hitter, too. Benny Brostoff is one of the toughest little scrappers who could be found to throw in the ring with Joe. He can hit, has lots of stamina and can take it. This match should rival the corking slugfest put on by Petey Hayes and Ernest Torres.

After signing Julie Katz, Joe Kelly looked around for the hardest little Irishman he could find to oppose the Jewish favorite. He picked Skippy Allen at the Pioneer gym. "This should be another of those thrills like the McLarin-Ross battle—the Irish and Heebes at it again," said the matchmaker. "And it's anybody's fight, that's the best of it."

Skippy Allen has tossed leather with some of the best of them, and only last week knocked out Freddy Raymond, the former Saugerties boy who recently fought in Kingston, showing some good punching against the clever Al Gillette until he was cut over the eye.

A supporting card that should make the card surpass even the show that everybody seemed to like last week is being put together and indications are that there should be a good time for the fight fans at the auditorium Friday night, June 29.

Instructions

IF you go to a piano and hit middle C, the key moves a full hammer which strikes a wire inside the instrument.
The impact sets the wire in motion and it vibrates back and forth 256 times a second. The rapid motion disturbs the air with a like frequency and the human ear recognizes 256 vibrations each second as the pure tone C.

Copyrights Are Granted To Protect the Authors

A copyright is a right granted by law to protect the author of a literary or musical composition or a producer of a dramatic or artistic work. The original term of a copyright is 28 years from date of entry. Provision is made for its extension for a second term of 28 years, and such extension is obtainable not only by the author, but by his widow (or widower) or children, or, if these be not living, by his executor, his next of kin, or, in the case of a composite work, by the proprietor if it is a work upon which copyright was originally obtained by the present proprietor. This protects his work from plagiarism for the period in which the copyright is operative. It offers the same protection to the author of literary composition that a patent offers the inventor.

Dogs Indispensable

Perhaps most widely known of all animals for his faithful devotion, the dog constantly performs acts of bravery and courage, sacrificing his life when necessary for his master. Man has needed the dog more than he is generally willing to admit. The protection of live stock against thieves and wild animals, and their herding, can in no practicable way be handled other than by the dog. When a pole is to be discovered, there must be dogs. Despite all modern inventions, expeditions into the Arctic are never attempted without them. In many European countries they are still employed for draft purposes. His wartime record is legion. Ten thousand dogs were in service at the front at the signing of the armistice. The Red Cross dog, with first-aid kit strapped to his collar, ignored all danger for service to man. The Halson dog, message carrier, trained to seek his master, creep and crawled under heavy fire with the one thought in mind—often saving whole companies of men from disaster.

Autopsy Shows No Operation of Any Kind

Had Been Performed on Torso of a Woman Found in Railway Station—Coroner's Inquest Held.

Brighton, Eng., June 20.—Chief of Detective Palmer announced today that an autopsy on the torso of a woman found in the railway station Sunday showed that no operation of any kind had ever been performed on her.

He declared: "The autopsy would have shown if there was an operation, even though all traces of the scars were gone."

His announcement eliminated in police opinion any possibility that the trunk murder victim could have been Miss Agnes Tuferson, missing Detroit and New York attorney, who underwent an abdominal operation in 1928.

Brighton police today announced that the woman whose torso was found in the local railway station in a trunk would have become a mother in five months and that "pregnancy undoubtedly provided the motive for the crime."

The announcement followed a coroner's inquest into the remains of the woman whose dismembered legs were found in London and whose head and arms are still missing and close after another gruesome discovery in the same Brighton railway station.

It was that of the body of a still-born baby.

Both the woman and the baby are still unidentified despite supreme efforts by Scotland Yard, assisted by Sir Bernard Spilsbury, of the home office, Europe's most famous criminologist.

VALUABLE COW DROWNED
TUESDAY IN ESOPUS CREEK

Eugene Gormley of Phoenixia had the misfortune to have a valuable cow drowned Tuesday in the Esopus creek when the creek suddenly came up when the Gilboa tunnel portal was opened. A herd of Mr. Gormley's cows was pasturing on the Phoenixia railroad bridge. While the cows were drinking at the creek the water suddenly started to come up and before the cows could gain higher ground one of them was swept into the stream and carried down. The carcass was not recovered.

Father Located, Son Will Return Home

Sheriff Sans received a letter from the Detroit Department of Public Welfare today asking for help in locating John Davide, father of Anthony Davide, who will be 16 years of age Thursday, came to Detroit from Kingston with his mother a number of years ago. Following his mother's death he set out to get in touch with his father, but after getting as far as Albany was returned to Detroit by the Albany authorities. His record has been good and the Detroit Welfare Department agreed to help him find his father.

Through Deputy Sheriff McCullough, who was acquainted with him, John Davide was located almost at once upon receipt of the letter of inquiry. He has a home at East Kingston, where he lives with a number of his children and is employed in the Brigham brickyard. He came to the sheriff's office this afternoon and made arrangements to provide transportation back home for his son.

Local Death Record

George E. Mott, husband of the late Augusta L. Mott, died June 19, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Frederick Grant, Oakdene, Bernardsville, N. J. Funeral services Thursday at the Campbell Funeral Church, Broadway at 66th street, at 12 noon.

Charles Smith, 13, of near Hurley, whose absence since Sunday was reported to the police, was located by the sheriff's office and returned to his home this noon. He was at the place of John Coles, Sawkill. Charles told the deputy that he had been at his uncle's for several days and then the first of the week went to Coles place, possibly attracted by a number of ponies that are kept there.

Kindergarten Plan Was Originated in Germany

The kindergarten, which has come to be recognized as almost essential if a child is to get the proper start in his education, was of German origin as its name suggests, notes a writer in the Washington Star.

Friedrich Froebel, a German educator, after much study became convinced that the all-important years in a child's mental development were the neglected years between the ages of three and six and sought to work out a method of education for the preschool age. His theory was that a child would develop considerable ability through short story telling, playing of games and other such activities requiring initiative, community of action and creative ability.

So successful was his experiment, the kindergarten idea spread rapidly, but during its early years was a private institution disconnected from the regular school system.

In this country kindergartens were run privately or under special endowment until 1873 when St. Louis tried out a kindergarten as a regular part of the public school system. W. P. Harris, then superintendent of schools in the Missouri city, was convinced that the kindergarten had a proper place in the regular educational system. The success of his experiment paved the way for general adoption of the kindergarten.

Temperature Cycles
North America has known three temperature cycles during the past 20,000 years since the retreat of the last glaciers. It is indicated by temperature gradient measurements at the Calumet copper mines. Temperature increases with depth. If the surface of the earth were at the freezing point this increase would be perfectly regular. If the surface is heated the normal increase is distorted. By study of distortion of the gradient some idea can be had of what has happened on the surface over a long period. From these measurements it appears that immediately after the retreat of the ice there was a warm period when the average temperature of the earth's surface was 10 degrees centigrade. This lasted for 10,000 years. It was followed by a cold period with an average temperature of 5 degrees centigrade, which lasted for 8,000 years. The average at present is nearly 7 degrees, which has been the case for approximately 2,000 years.

A Universal Language
There have been several attempts to found a universal language. Long ago, Latin was the universal learned language of Europe, both in speaking and writing; while in more recent times French has been used as the language of diplomacy. The first "manufactured" language to gain any popularity was Volapuk, devised in 1880 by a German priest. It was based largely on English. Esperanto, the most successful of all, was invented in 1887 by a Russian. It is taught in schools in many countries, and has an extensive literature of books, grammars, etc. The "youngest" of these languages is Ido, a modified form of Esperanto, "born" in 1907.—Answers Magazine.

Reindeer in Arctic Region
The only domestic animal that is bred profitably in the Arctic region is the reindeer, because it requires neither hay nor food nor shelter. There are more than 125,000,000 of them, and it is not uncommon for single breeders in Arctic Siberia to own herds of 10,000 at a time.

Maryland Is 300

On Tones Are Still in Use in Maryland

Proposed by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

MARYLAND, the Old Line state, this year is celebrating its three-hundredth anniversary. In March a stone cross was unveiled at Saint Clement's (now Blakistone) Island, in the Potomac river, which marks the landing place of Leonard Calvert, the first Maryland governor. On June 26 another celebration will take place at St. Marys city, site of the first Maryland capital, near the extreme southern tip of the state.

Maryland is a delightful geographic miniature of America. Her eastern shore is as level as any prairie state and, under modern cultivation, becomes as fertile. Southern Maryland, romantic with manorial mansions that are centuries old, is a counterpart of Tidewater Virginia and the old South.

The rolling green fields and forested hills of Montgomery and Frederick counties remind one of the Blue Grass country of Kentucky and of the loveliest valleys of New York and New England, while the long clumps of Big Savage mountain, Negro mountain, and Keyser ridge have made many a western motorist feel that they were as high as the Rockies and the Sierra Nevada.

Her tiny area is a museum of geology, disclosing the most ancient rocks of our globe and others still in the process of making, and running the scale through every major geological epoch.

From little St. Marys, where the Colonists of the Ark and the Dove established the first community in the world where Protestant and Catholic could worship in friendship together, in an age when Europe was red with blood shed in the name of religion, to the mountains of western Maryland, where George Washington, fighting the Indians, gained his first military experience, a continuous panorama unfolds of colonial landmarks and scenes sacred and momentous in our national life.

In this state, whose finest tradition is tolerance, intellectual giants and big-souled men and women originated notable principles of government and new ideals of human society.

Capt. John Smith Was There.
It is impossible definitely to fix the date when white men first saw what is now Maryland.

But certainly the Chesapeake bay region was carefully explored by Capt. John Smith, of Jamestown, in 1608. In that year he went up one side of the bay and down the other, going up the rivers and inlets as he pushed onward. He visited what is now the site of Baltimore and sailed up the Patuxent river. He also went up the Potomac as far, at least, as Indian Head.

After the rigors of the Newfoundland climate had ended his hopes of establishing a colony there, and after Virginia had refused to receive him unless he took the oath of spiritual allegiance to the king of England, Sir George Calvert, the first Lord Baltimore, went back to London and asked the king for a part of the unsettled region north of the Potomac river.

This was granted him, and also a charter (which he wrote himself) that entitled him to set up a palatinate, with the most ample rights and privileges ever conferred by a sovereign of England.

Under it, all that the crown retained was feudal supremacy. Two Indian arrows and a fifth of the gold and silver produced were the sole annual tribute required as a gesture of fealty to the king. Beyond that, the proprietor was given sovereign powers and the Colonists were to retain all the rights of Englishmen.

Impressed by the crescent form of the southern boundary of the territory granted him by his friend Charles I, Lord Baltimore decided to call it Crescentia. The king, however, wanted to honor his wife, Queen Henrietta Maria, and Maryland the colony became.

The first Lord Baltimore dying before he could take advantage of his grant, the title was confirmed to his son Cecil.

Seen From the Water.
Maryland had its beginnings between the Potomac river and Chesapeake bay, and the events that transpired in that peninsula have had such a vital bearing on the destiny of the United States and the course of human history that one needs to journey back to the old state in the making of America.

To resurrect the colonial scene and to absorb its atmosphere to best advantage, one should leave his motor car behind and wander down the Potomac and up the Chesapeake aboard one of the little trading steamers which wind their way to all the sturdy landings that reach out of the colonial past for their not-too-frequent contacts with the Twentieth-century world.

For while modern Maryland, for the most part, turns its back on the bay and its tributaries and faces the splendid highways of the present, which have had to keep inland to avoid broad, unbridgeable tidal inlets, historic Maryland gratefully faced the shore that was its great highway to the world beyond the sea and clung close to it.

Forty miles in 40 hours—from Washington to Baltimore between Saturday afternoon and Monday morning! No, the steamer is not so unreasonably slow as it would seem; for its course must thread a dozen tidal rivers and lakelike bays to visit the creaking landings that have survived the centuries and still offer their commerce to the outside world. During those 40 hours one lives again the life of another age.

The trip begins as you set sail, leaving the Capital City astern. Presently the frowning bastions of Fort Washington appear, at the mouth of Piscataway creek. Upon the site of the parade ground of that fort Gov. Leonard Calvert held a powwow with the king of the Piscataways, as his first act in establishing friendly relations with the Indians.

Port Tobacco river comes down through the hills to meet you, with its memories of John Hanson of Mulberry Grove, president of the United States in congress assembled, 1781-1782; of Thomas Stone of Habre de Ventura, signer of the Declaration of Independence, and of Dr. James Craik, who saved Washington's life in Braddock's defeat and attended him until his death.

Many of the fine old manor houses survive, but the years have closed the stream to modern navigation, although it once was deep enough for the four-masted barques from England and had a thriving trade in tobacco. It got its name, not, it is said, from the sovereign weed, but from the tribe of Indians who once lived there—the Portobacks.

Home of the "King Entertainer."
Just before reaching Morgantown, Mount Republican appears beyond a headline, and what memories the walls of this old house could relate if they could speak! For here lived and ruled, history notes, Franklin Weems, known as King Entertainer of Southern Maryland. It is said that he had a hundred foxhounds in his pack; that he maintained a card game which lasted forty years; that he kept a cellar stocked with fifty barrels of the best brandies and the choicest wines for the landed gentry or casual traveler coming his way, and he so loved youth and happiness about him that he gave a party for the young people three times a week.

Late in the night Blakistone Island (known as St. Clement's Island in colonial days) is picked up by an oblique searchlight, and one can fancy he sees coming out of the darkness of the past the Ark and the Dove, bearing the founders of Maryland, commanded by Gov. Leonard Calvert, brother of Sir Cecil Calvert, second Lord Baltimore.

Landing of Governor Calvert.
A landing was made March 23, 1634; a huge cross, hewn out of a tree, was erected, with prayers and thanksgiving, and solemn and formal possession of the land, both in the name of the spiritual Christ and the temporal king, was taken.

The waters around the island were shallow and had to be approached in shallops. A band of womenfolk going ashore to stage Maryland's first wash day was overturned. Some of the women narrowly escaped drowning, and Governor Calvert reported such nearness to death, including some of his own, "which was no small matter in those distant parts."

St. Marys, though a shrine to which Christians came on pilgrimages, is only a memory that has no place in a steamer's time-table.

St. Marys was the site chosen by Leonard Calvert for the first settlement. Here he bought 30 miles from the Indian king, with a quantity of arms, food and breadstuffs, and the Colonists—20 "gentlemen" and 300 soldiers, half Catholic and half Protestant—disembarked.
